Welcome to this Weeks News Letter

A short and sweet newsletter this week.

This week we have seen lots of sun and I hope that it has lifted your spirits, as it has mine. The week has yet again flown by and I have seen and heard about some wonderful work that the children have been doing. They have truly settled back well and their attitudes to learning are showing in the work they are producing.

Last week both a member of staff and a child in Yellow class were involved in activities for charities. I would like to congratulate Mrs Riley on a very brave skydive to raise money for Muscular Dystrophy and to Chloe for donating her hair to The Little Princess Trust, whilst also raising funds for our BFG, which all of your children will benefit from. (Please see individual information in this newsletter).

Reminder to Parents

Can we please remind all parents to check Microsoft Teams regularly for home learning tasks and for messages from your child's teachers. If you are having difficulties with Teams please contact the school office.

Parent Evening Appointments

We are planning to hold Teacher – Parent appointments to discuss your children via telephone communication, as we did previously.

These will now be held next week and the week beginning 3rd May.

You will receive an email to register on Pupil Asset today and dates/time will be available for booking from 10am on Monday 26th April. If you do not receive an email or have any problems with this system, please contact the school office.

Charity Skydive

On Saturday 17th April, I took part in a charity skydive on behalf of Muscular Dystrophy UK. I was due to jump last March but due to Covid-19 it had to be postponed, so this experience has been a long time coming and even longer for my nerves! It was an incredible day, the atmosphere was amazing and everyone who took part were very encouraging of one another, which is exactly what you need when jumping 10,000 feet from a plane. My fantastic husband (who suffers himself with Muscular Dystrophy and who was the inspiration for my involvement in the skydive) and three daughters were all there cheering me on and waving their posters of support. It was certainly a once in a lifetime experience but I am not sure it is one I would want to repeat!

Muscular Dystrophy is a nonprofit charity, who rely solely on all the generous donations of the public to fund research into muscle wasting conditions in the hope there will one day be a cure, as well as to provide support to those not only with muscle wasting conditions by providing specialist equipment, but also their families. The Duke of Edinburgh was the ambassador for Muscular Dystrophy UK, therefore Saturday felt an even more appropriate opportunity to jump, in light of his funeral. So far I have raised a fantastic £872.00, but every penny counts. If you would like to donate please see the link below to my just giving page.

Fabulous Fundraising Chloe

Chloe in Yellow Class is looking a little different this week after an amazing haircut, which has supported two worthy causes. Chloe's

Mum told us "Chloe has wanted her hair cut for a little while and, after chatting about how short she wanted to go, we spoke about donating the hair to The Little Princess Trust. She learnt about the charity and how they make real hair wigs for sick children and thought it would be nice for another child to enjoy her long locks.

She saw that many donors also fundraised and wondered if she would be able to raise some money for the school as it's been a tough year with COVID lockdowns. We wanted to show our thanks to the teachers for working so hard, and to help the BFG continue to provide fun events for the children when the school reopened fully.

Initially our target was set at £100. We were able to beat this after the first day, so quickly moved our target to £500.

However, so many people have been extremely generous and, as we come to the end of the fundraiser, our final total stands at £1019. We are extremely proud of Chloe. She loves her new, shorter hair and we're pleased to have raised so much money."

Well done Chloe
