Blue Class News

Blue Class have got a new Author of the Month: Julia Donaldson. We have been learning about the key elements featured in many of her stories and this week have been performing the story, 'Room on the Broom'. The Class learnt how to read fluently with expression and included some actions to show their deepened understanding of the characters. We are excited to explore more of her wonderful stories throughout the following term. Well done Blue Class for your continued effort and enthusiasm!
